Descripción

Design philosophy of the FF1100 " No large crew, no extensive sail wardrobe, all unnecessary to make safe, fast and comfortable long passages with this yacht. However, the ship is so agile that it invites you to just take it out for a spin on a summer evening. Jac. de Ridder, who did not want to build a conventional cruiser/racer this time, but an easy to sail, purely fast boat." The FF1100 is an exceptionally fast and comfortable sailing yacht, thanks to the generous cockpit with thoughtful ergonomics it is suitable for both shorthanded and full-crew sailing. With its spartan yet comfortable interior, it is also very suitable for longer sailing vacations.
