Descripción

Unlike most "house boats," the NanoFloat is a full-fledged home. Its insulation is much better than the average home for permanent living.

The living unit is 3.6 meters wide. The NanoFloat can be placed on a variety of modular pontoon systems, which are stationary or optionally sprung with an electric drive. This minimalist floating home is extremely energy efficient and offers all the comforts you need to enjoy your leisure time on the water.

The optional veranda module can be installed to complete the distinctive design style of our homes.
